Dr. Zahrowski is a board certified orthodontist and a former orthodontic instructor at UCLA who received his Doctor of Pharmacy from USC. Due to his expertise, he authors articles in professional journals and lectures for the American Association of Orthodontists, Pacific Coast Society of Orthodontists, and the Edward H. Angle Orthodontic Society. He is also a dental continuing education provider for California, part of the editorial review board for the American Journal of Orthodontics, and an evidence based national expert for the American Dental Association.
